Your Phone Isn't Just Distracting You — It's Costing You Hours

Every time your phone pulls you away from work, the real cost isn't the 10 seconds you glance at it. It's the climb back to concentration afterward.

THE HIDDEN COST

Research shows it takes an average of 23 minutes to fully refocus after a single interruption.

Interrupted six times before lunch? You may never reach deep focus all morning. But here's the good news: this is a design problem, not a willpower problem — and you can fix the design in about five minutes.

This free guide gives you the fastest, highest-impact part of the system: a phone that defends your focus automatically, plus a 60-second desk reset. Do it once, and it protects you every workday after.

Ready? Grab your phone. Let's lock it down.

Turn Your Phone Into a Focus Machine

On iPhone

1 Create a "Work" Focus

`Settings → Focus → + → Custom` . Name it "Work."

2 Allow almost no one

Under People, allow only 1–3 emergency contacts. Silence every other app — especially social, news & games.

3 Put it on a schedule

Set a Schedule → your work hours, Mon–Fri. Now it arms itself every day automatically.

On Android

1 Open Digital Wellbeing

`Settings → Digital Wellbeing → Focus mode` . (Tip: search Settings for "Digital Wellbeing.")

2 Pause your distracting apps

Check every app that pulls you off task. Focus mode greys them out during work hours.

3 Set a schedule

Tap Set a schedule → your work hours. Done — it runs on its own.

Do This Now (2 minutes)

Build the "Work" Focus / Focus mode on your phone using the steps above.

Whitelist 3 people max. Silence everything else.

Set the schedule so it turns on by itself tomorrow morning.

BONUS · 60 SECONDS

The 60-Second Desk Reset

Before each focus session, run this once. It removes the triggers your shielded phone can't:

- ◆ Phone in another room. Not a drawer — a different room. Distance is friction, and friction protects you.
- ◆ Close every non-essential browser tab. Each open tab is an open loop pulling at your attention.
- ◆ Write your ONE task on paper. One clear target kills the urge to wander.

That's it. Phone shielded, desk reset — you've just removed 90% of what was stealing your focus.

THIS WAS JUST THE WARM-UP

Ready to double your daily output?

You just fixed your phone. The Focus Blueprint gives you the complete system remote workers use to eliminate distractions for good:

- ◆ The full Digital Shield (desktop + advanced phone setup)
- ◆ Deep Work Blocks — the 90-minute method that doubles output
- ◆ The Time-Blocking Tracker (free Google Sheet) to measure your progress
- ◆ A 7-Day Activation Plan to install it all in one week
